Who We Are

Third generation antipasto experts

AusFresh is proud to be one of Australia's most trusted and longest serving antipasto manufacturer and distributor nationwide, operating since 1994.

Our extensive range of superior quality products and unique authentic recipes include semi dried tomatoes, olives, antipasto and grilled vegetables, available in a range of different sizes, from bulk packs to retail packs.

Our range is found in every major grocery retail chain across Australia, featured within the deli sections, as private label offerings, or under our signature branded packs.

Our philosophy, dedication and passion towards quality ingredients ensure we deliver only the best in fresh delicacies inspired by the Mediterranean diet, whilst maintaining a reputation for quality service and superior standards.

Why AusFresh?

Creating great-tasting Mediterranean products

AUSTRALIAN OWNED & OPERATED

Our founder, Fermo Marchetti, arrived in Australia in 1951 carrying with him the knowledge of how to produce the finest quality antipasto. So we're proud to be one of Australia's most trusted and longest serving antipasto distributors nationwide, operating since 1994.

USING THE FINEST QUALITY AUSTRALIAN INGREDIENTS

We use fresh Australian ingredients as much as possible; and when we can't, we source authentic ingredients from their places of origin (e.g. Kalamata olives from Kalamata, Manzanillo olives from Spain). We only use cholesterol-free, non-GMO canola oil and aim to reduce salt where possible while avoiding all artificial colours and flavours in our products.

AN INNOVATIVE & CREATIVE RANGE

Creating new products for customers is an integral aspect of continuing the growth of many food businesses. We have partnered with many clients to develop custom products that meet their needs, including customised packaging, recipes, product lines and merchandising.

Our Range Retail Packs

Our antipasto retail packs have been developed for consumer convenience.

Packed full of our premium quality product, our range has proven to be an excellent seller time after time.
